Churches are essential... we already knew that.
When the faithful are scattered in every in age due to persecution, disaster, or plague, we persist in worship and service, in sacrament and sacrifice-feeding the hungry, clothing the naked, welcoming the stranger, being good news for the poor, working to free the captives and oppressed.

Our highest and holy calling is to be the church, not go to church.

Submitted by Patti Roberts